

Full Moon (A Ditty of Lament)

© Copyright Greg Philby

Original work. Poem and illustration published in Goldilocks Has Purple Hair 2012.

Lyrics, chords and melody recorded June 26, 2020.

Released 2025.

V1

There's a full moon rising big and bold tonight.
Strange things are gonna happen soon.
A full moon makes people fall in love, they say.
It makes them crazy as a loon.

It makes vampires rise.
Scary bats and goblins fill the skies.
Witches grab their brooms and evil eyes
and they go soaring...
It makes werewolves howl.
Well, I've been waiting for a solid hour!
I haven't seen a single thing worthwhile.
So far this is boring.

V2

The moon just sits there with a goofy look.
It still hasn't done a thing.
There should be zombies coming down the street and magic potions boiling.

It sets phantoms free.
But there's nothing that I can see.
A creepy demon should come after me,
a shadow in the light.
Well, this is lame because
I don't know what the moon is thinking of.
If it's gonna do it hurry up.
I haven't got all night.

REPRISE

It makes werewolves howl.
Well, I've been waiting for a solid hour!
I haven't seen a single thing worthwhile.
So far this is boring.
There's a full moon rising big and bold tonight...

