V1

Well I'm sittin' out here on my porch swing.
Fell in love with a wren.
I saw a daisy. So captivating.
I fell in love again.
Then I fell for the morning sunbeam
layin' warm across my lap.
She was so lovely. I called her honey.
And there's no going back.

CHORUS

That's the way my heart goes
crashing out of windows
head over heels.
This is what each day brings
plucking on the heart strings
if you love.

V2

Well I got up for a chocolate biscotti.
My favorite since yesterday.
And mmm a cup of coffee. How do I love thee?
Let me count the ways.
Y'see it's been this way since we been together
I got a lotta love on my mind.
A day that has you in it. 100 times a minute.
Make it a hundred-nine.

CHORUS

That's the way my heart goes
head over heels.
This is what each day brings
plucking on the heart strings
if you love.

V3

Well I'm sittin' out here on my porch swing.
Fallin' for my guitar.
I love her beauty. The way she soothes me.
I love her for her scars.
Sometimes it can feel overwhelming
but it's not about the distant ships.
The simple pleasures without measure
are at your fingertips.

CHORUS

That's the way my heart goes
head over heels.
This is what each day brings
if you love
to love...
